THE FOREWORD

THE THEME:

Because the California Pacific International Exposition is the chief interest of San Diego citizens and tourists to Southern California, and because the Gray Castle is so closely allied with the Exposition, both in geographical location and educational interest, "Pacific Relations" was selected as the theme for The 1935 Gray Castle.

THE ART WORK:

All art work and division pages for the Annual were planned to represent four countries bordering on the Pacific. For insert page designs, China, Japan, Mexico, and Samoa were represented. For three countries, art students were chosen to represent their own nationality. King Quon designed the Chinese plate; Katsuko Yamasaki, the Japanese; Val Sayas, the Mexican; and Ruby Christian, one for Samoa.

THE PURPOSE:

When theme and art work had been chosen, the primary object of The Gray Castle staff was to present in these pages a mosaic of senior life and senior activities for the past semester. This senior A memory book will have fulfilled its purpose if in future years it brings back some activity, some joy, some friend, otherwise to have been forgotten.

Exposition-minded sewing students work on dresses, coats, and suits, making "just the right ensembles" for promenading at the Fair grounds this summer. Marjorie Boring and Teruko Hironava are making a model dress and coat to be displayed in the home economics exhibit at the C. P. I. E.

One of three murals, designed by Senior A Frank Petrich, and each approximately ten feet long, is being painted by Senior A's King Quon and George Henry, while other students in the senior illustration class plan color layouts.

Walter Spooner, Senior A woodshop student, (right foreground) is carving the Quill and Scroll insignia to be placed on the newspaper rack in the journalism display at the Palace of Education.

The Gray Castle

UNDER the leadership of Ruby Christian, annual editor, and Howard Mueller, business manager, the annual staff began its activities early in April. Because of a larger budget this year, The Gray Castle has been able to have a much more expensive cover and more pictures than for several years.

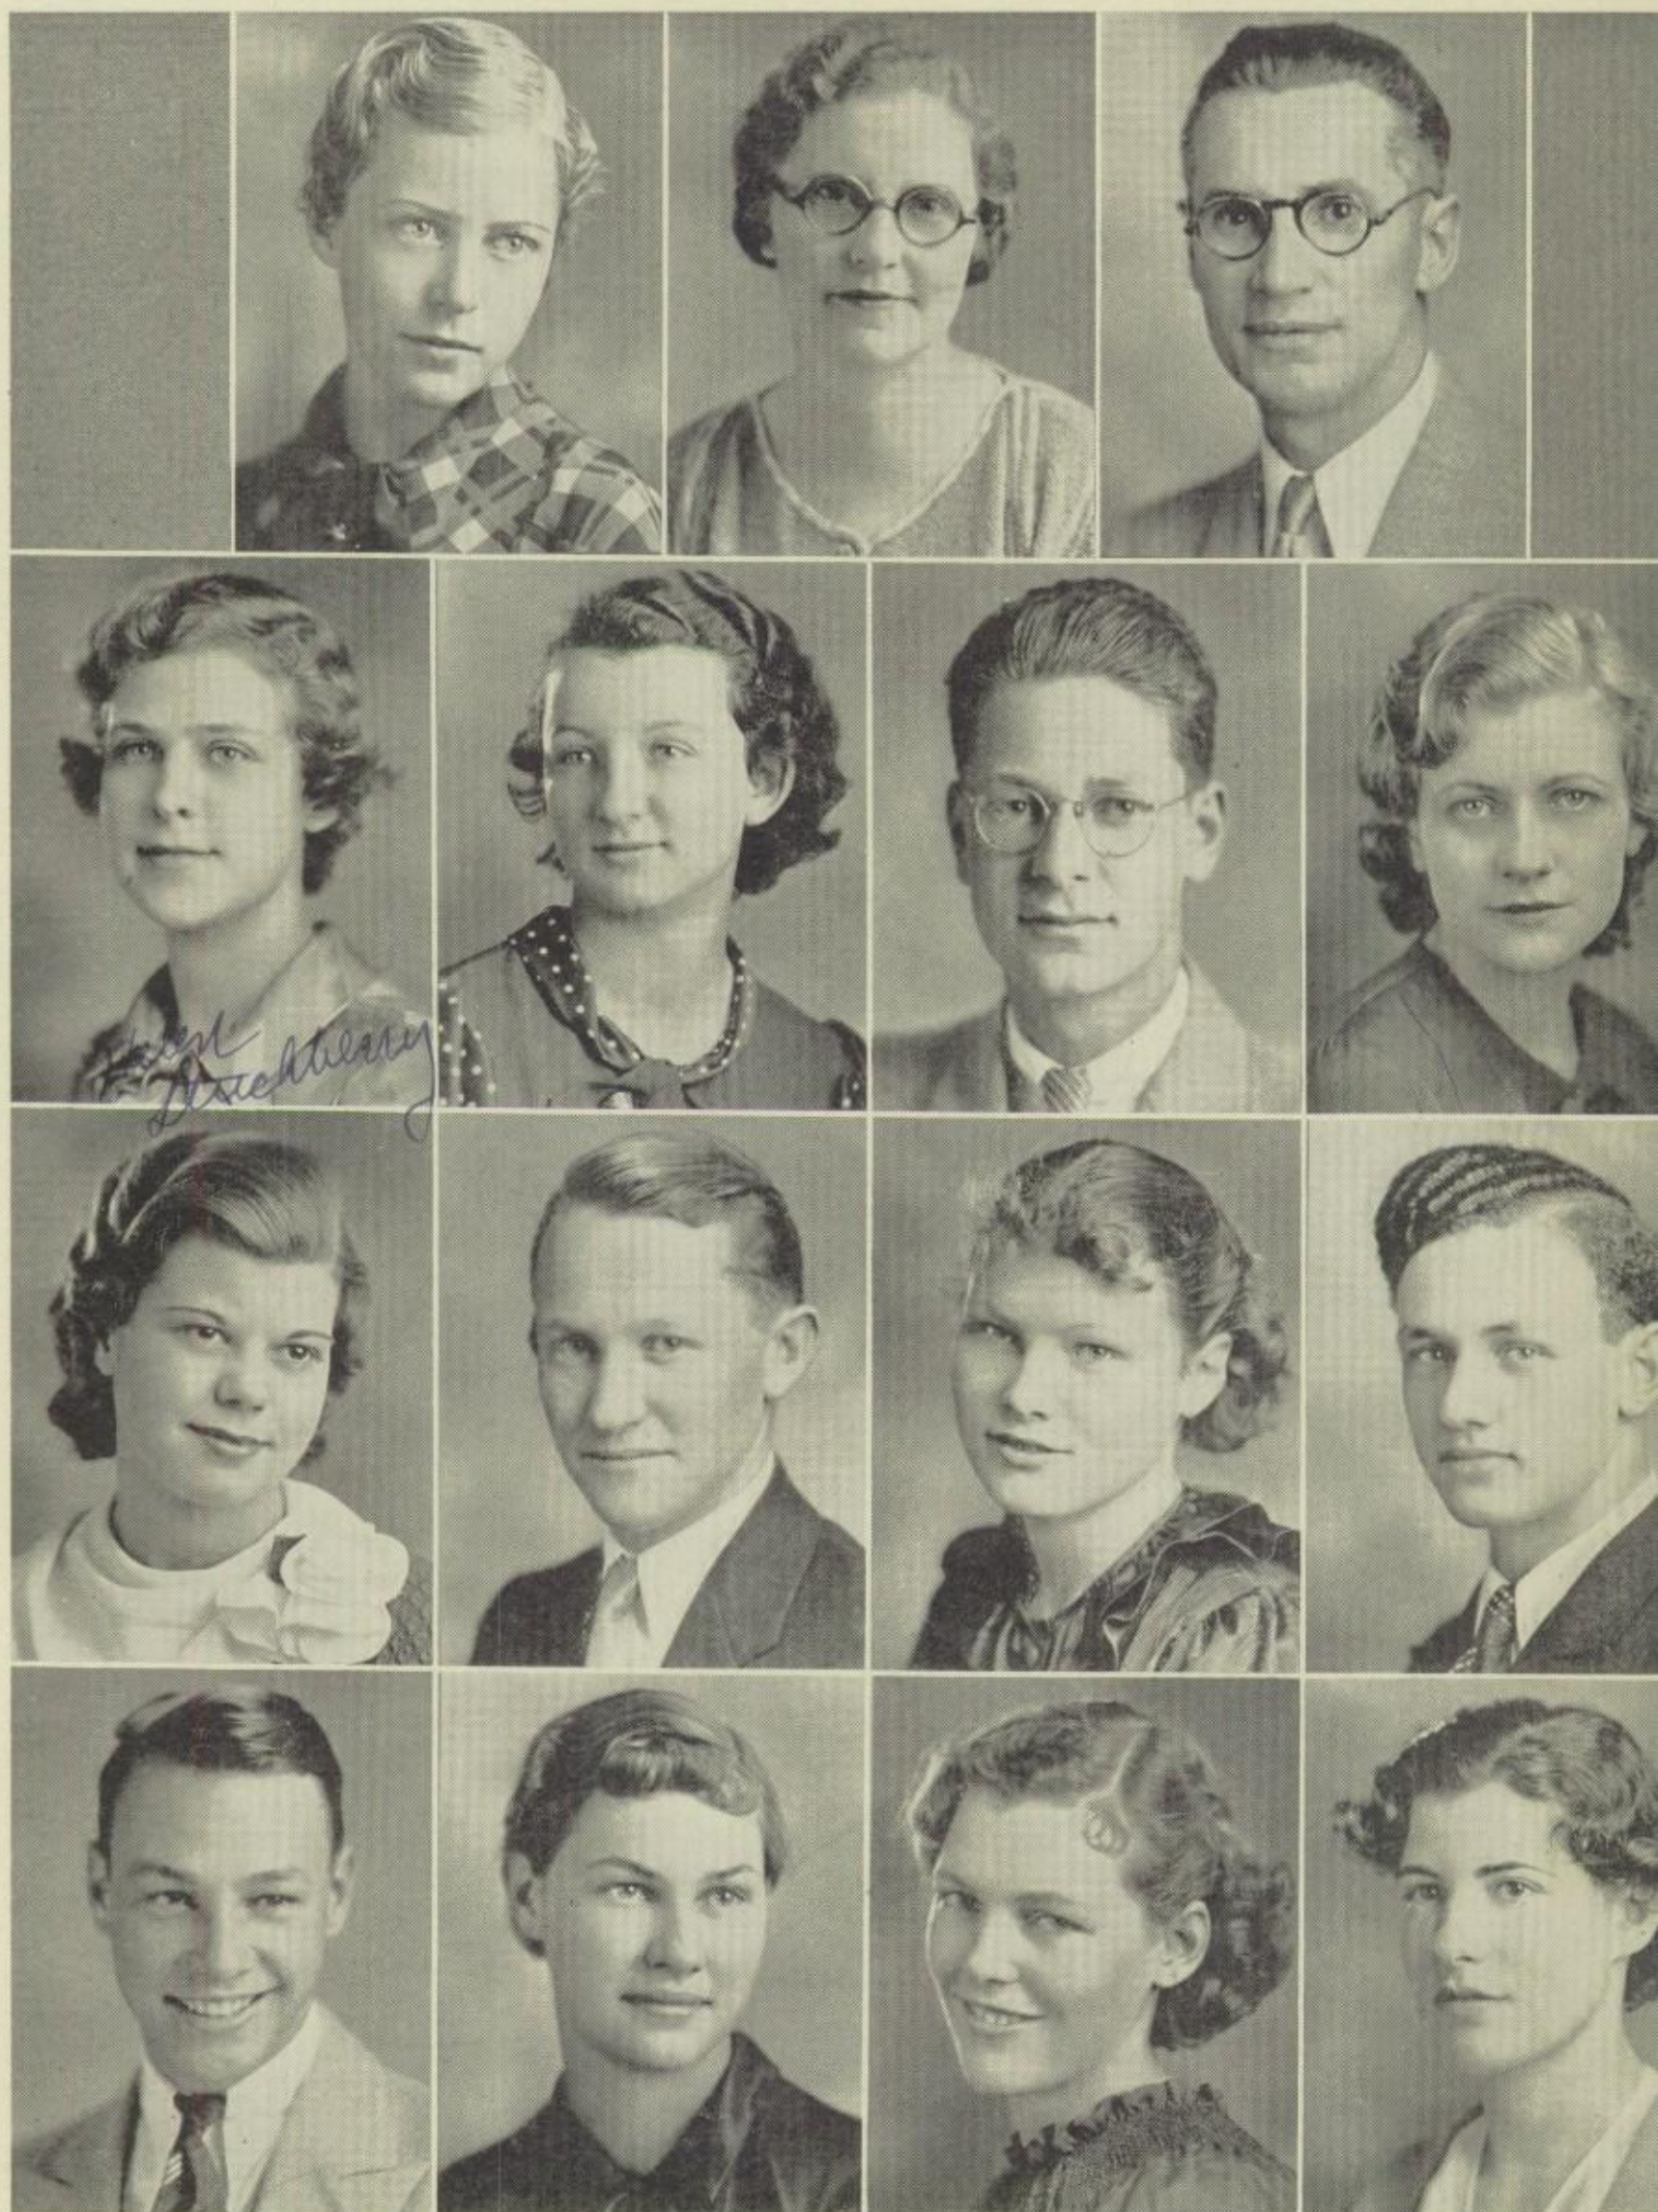

As the California Pacific International Exposition is being held in San Diego this year, "Pacific Relations" was chosen as the theme for the June annual.

The senior class is indebted to Miss Margaret Verl Freyburger and Mr. Arthur Wicks, who acted as literary and financial advisers respectively, for the success of this Gray Castle.

Special credit should be given to Miss Harriet Southwick, who supervised art work, and to King Quon, Yatsuko Yamasaki, and Val Sayas, senior A art students who designed several of the division pages.

Girard Harper is to be thanked for his "pinch-hitting" in the humor section.

The annual staff members who had charge of the various sections of the book were: Associate Editors, Martha Noble and Helen Stuchberry; Seniors, Mary Cunningham and Dayton Axtell; Organizations, Janet Wilson and Justin Burston; Humor, Mavoureen Page; and Athletics, John McCloskey and Anamary McClelland. Paul Faucher and Elizabeth Kemp assisted Business Manager Mueller; Sarah Lipsey and Marjorie Aaronson were typists.

Class History

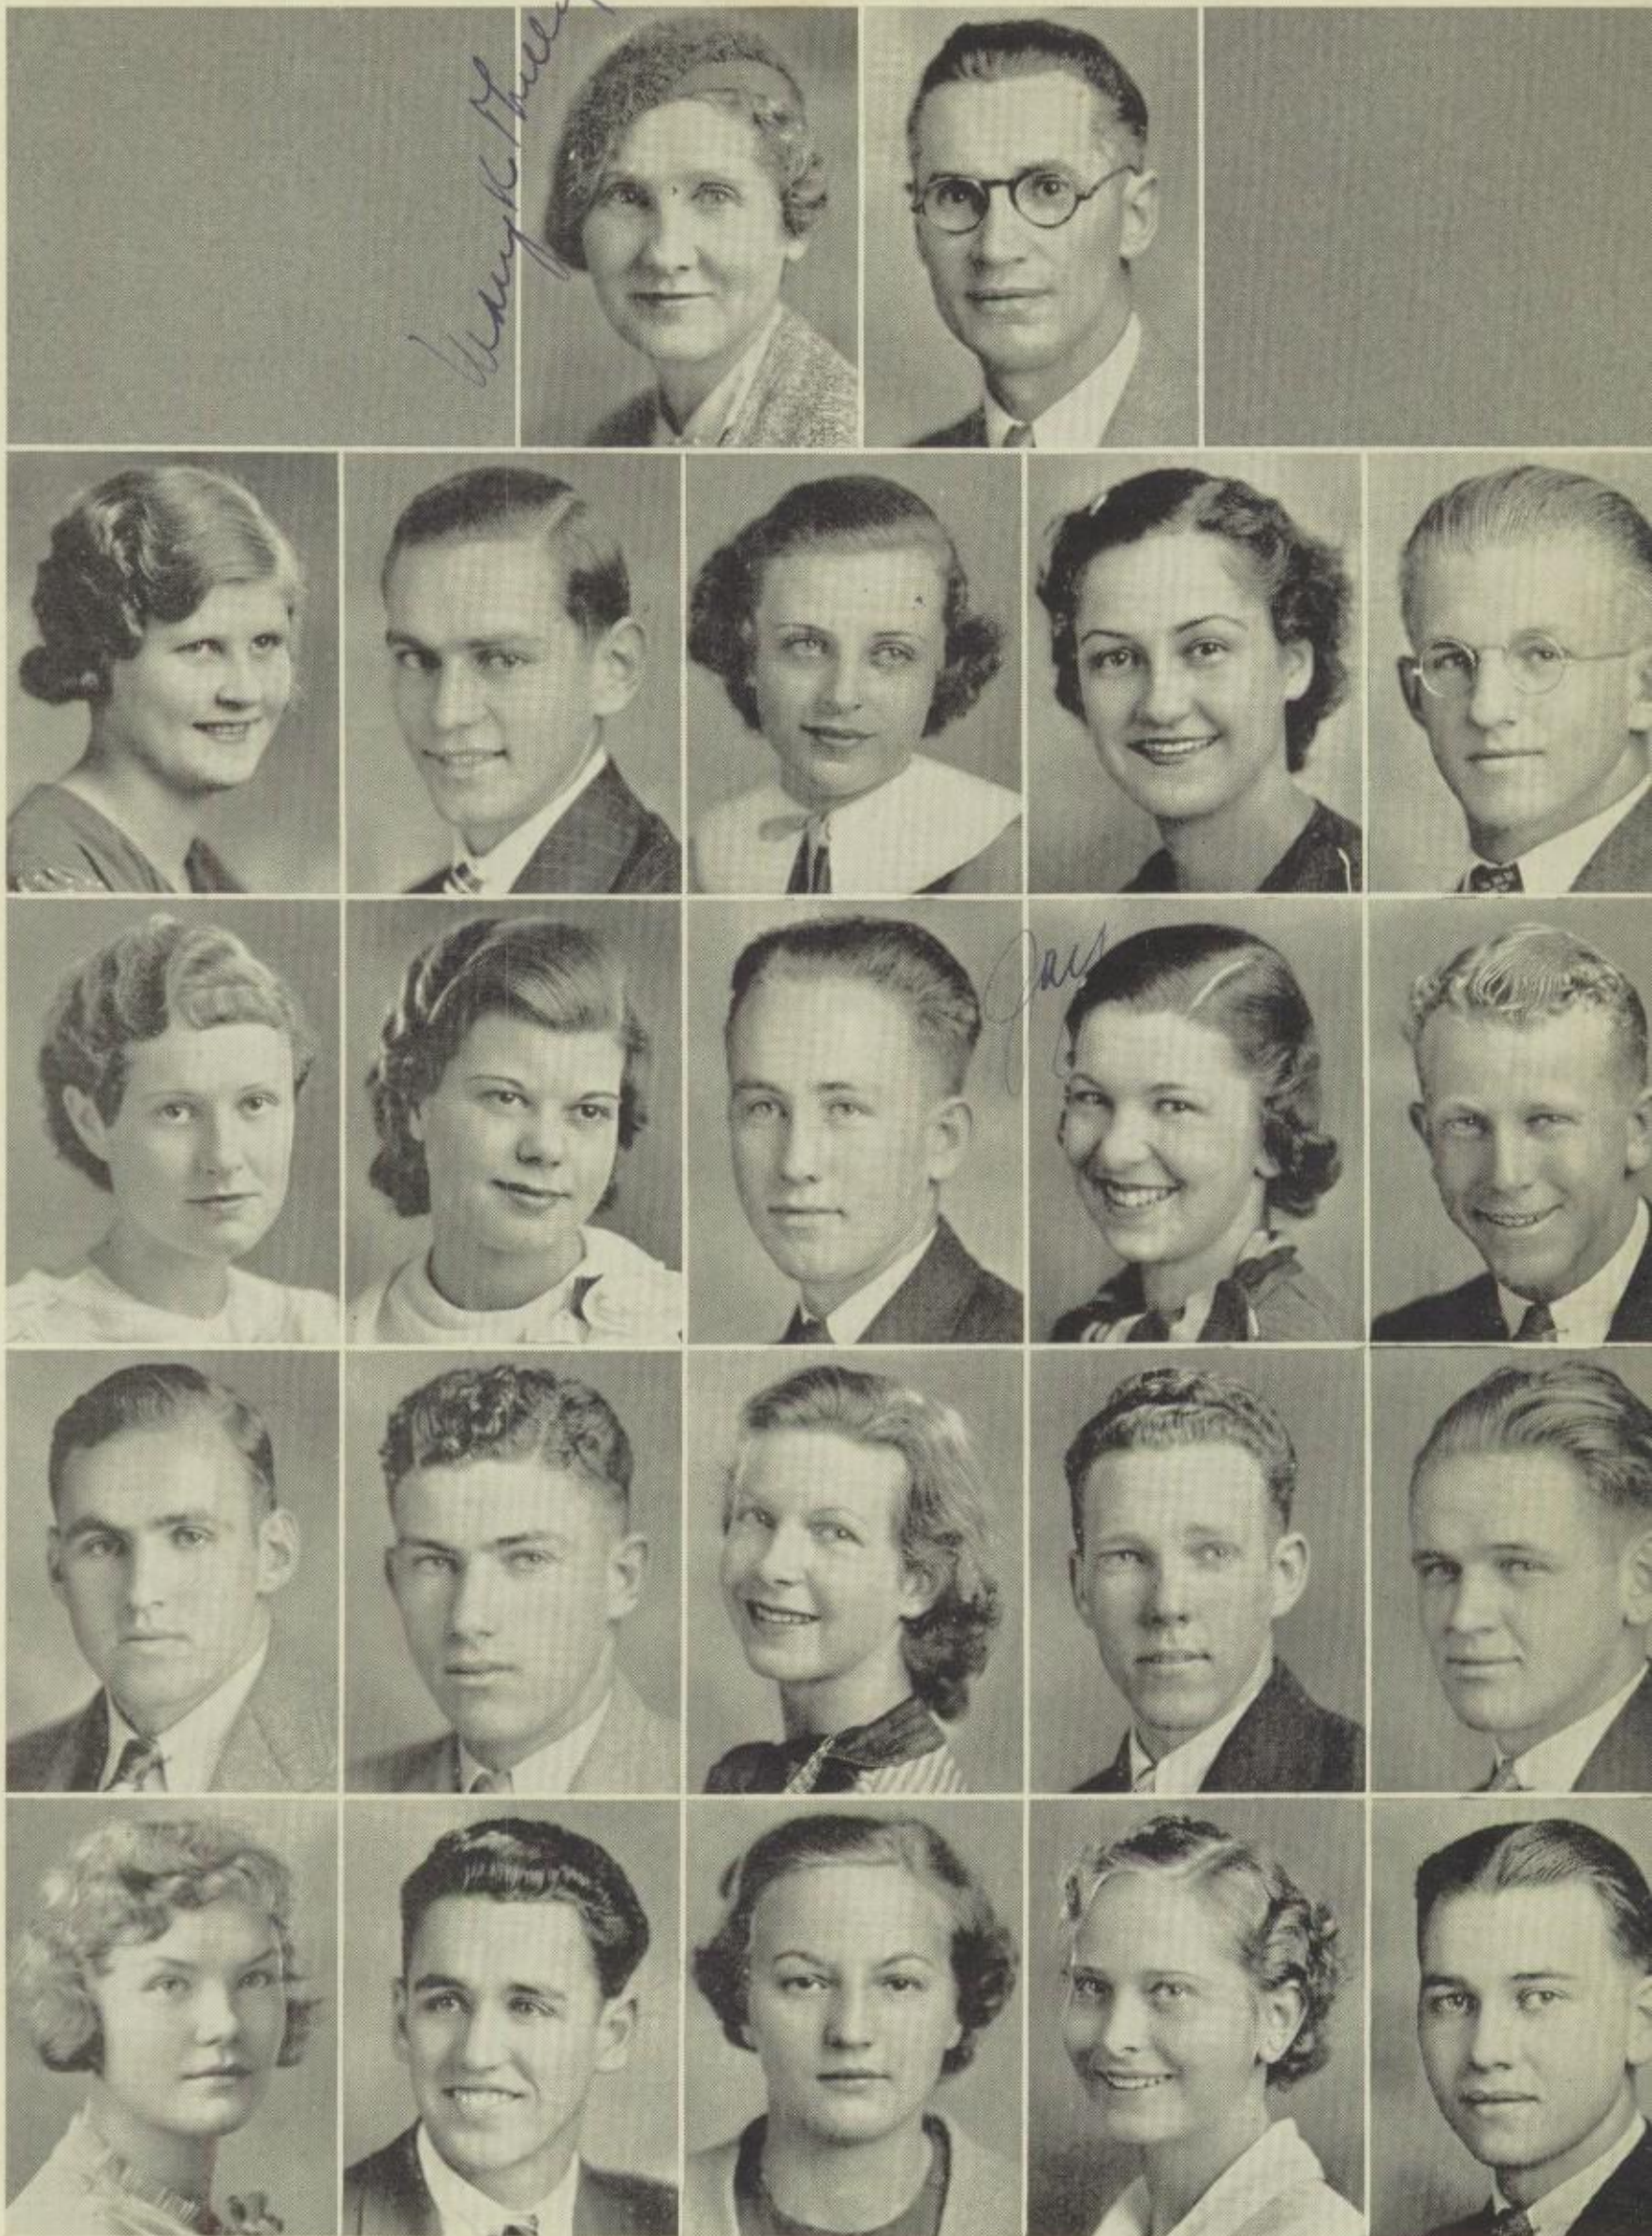

SEPTEMBER 12, 1932, the present Senior A class entered the portals of the Gray Castle for the first time. Eva Lepore guided the class as Low 10's, but Ulysses Barbachano won the presidency during the spring semester. Although only Sophomores, the class contributed greatly to the success of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the San Diego High School, which was celebrated November 25. The interclass baseball and wrestling crowns were both won by the Sophomore A class.

Ulysses Barbachano was again at the helm during the Junior year. Many Juniors took part in the Homecoming celebration, and gained responsible positions in school activities. The Class obtained honor for itself by winning the stunt contest in the first Homecoming celebration, and with the funds obtained as the prize, held a Junior class party, setting a precedent for many other such activities among the various classes.

The Senior B class under the leadership of Wayne Fry won the second Homecoming stunt contest; various members in executive positions aided in the planning of the Roundup. Many boys of this class were "kings for a day" during the Boys' Day program of January 15.

The coveted post of Senior A class president was won by Harry Horton. Other officers elected to help Harry were Bill Lyle, vice president; Mary Sanford, secretary; and Howard Mueller, treasurer. A capable Senior A cabinet was chosen which guided the many Senior activities successfully. Two new events were added to this year's calendar, a Sport dance with Jay Riddle as the hostess and a Skating party with Gordon Hall in charge.

June 14 marked the final day for the Class of June '35 at the Hilltop.

Senior A Class Song

To the tune of "Hail to California"

Words by Pauline Conkle

Hail to San Diego, 'tis our high school home,
 Mem'rys dear will linger tho' from thee we roam.
 Hearts bound close with bonds of love that shall never fail,
 San Diego Senior High School,
 Hail! Hail! Hail!

Hail to San Diego, class of '35,
 Leaves with grateful homage, in the world to strive.
 May we bring thee honor, laurel leaves prevail,
 San Diego Senior High School,
 Hail! Hail! Hail!

Senior A Play

"GROWING PAINS," a rollicking three-act comedy by Aurania Rouveral, was presented by the Senior A class May 9 and 10 in the Russ Auditorium. The antics of George McIntyre, a sixteen year old boy, and his tom-boy sister, Jerry, furnish the plot. George loses his heart to the town vamp, Prudence, and finds it necessary to grow up in a hurry if he is to win her. A brilliant party scene in the second act, in which George suffers one casualty after another, is the high point of the play. After being arrested, as well as turned down by Prudence, George trades his car for a gun and locks himself in his room. A shot causes much excitement, but all ends well.

Jerry Masten played the leading role of George McIntyre, while Mary Jane Lewis played opposite him as his tom-boy sister. George Rosado and Anita Gessler had important parts in the roles of Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre. Jane Jedlick was an up-to-the-minute siren in the part of Prudence. Joe Hurwitz and Ruth Ellis added much to the humor of the play with Joe as Omar, a fellow who stutters, and Ruth as a bashful girl. Helen Randolph played the role of Ruth's mother. James Corwin and Randel Fairburn appeared as Byran and Dutch, Jerry's pals. Bryce Mack was the town policeman.

Ben Hagar as chairman of the play committee was responsible to a large degree for its success. The Class is very much indebted to Miss Marjorie Davis, who directed the play, and here wishes to express its appreciation to her.

Honor Roll

Class of June, 1935

THE SCHOLARSHIP Honor Roll of the Class of June, 1935, is based on the work of the first five senior high school semesters. All students whose semester grades of "A" (superior) number eleven or more are placed on the honor roll.

Students who entered with grades of "A" from other schools had their "A's" accepted for the honor roll providing they made as good grades while in attendance at the San Diego High School.

"Pep" Song

By W. F. Reyer

Verse:

When sight and sound of our castle
Fade in the long dreary years,
You will recall in your hearts again
Memories of old songs and cheers.
You who have fought for the old school,
Placing her standards so high,
You who have stood for fair, square sport,
Will hear her students cry:

Chorus:

San Diego, San Diego, wave your banners high.
San Diego, San Diego, fight until you die.
We'll not forget you
For you are true blue,
Standing always for right.
Hear her calling, calling to you, ever
Honor the blue and white.

Alma Mater

By Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Reyer

Hail, blue and white,
To thee our song we raise,
Loud let our voices ring
With loyalty and praise.
Fortress of love and strength,
Guide ever true.
Hail, San Diego High—
Our White and Blue.

Hail, Castle Gray,
The fairest in the West,
Lead thou thy children on
And give to each success.
Through years that come and go
We'll e'er be true
To San Diego High—
The White and Blue.

Associated Student Body

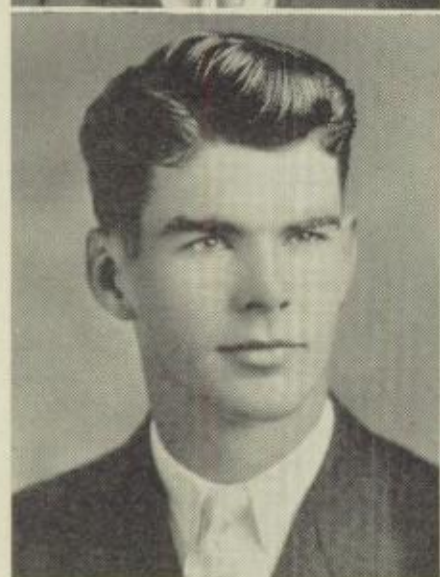

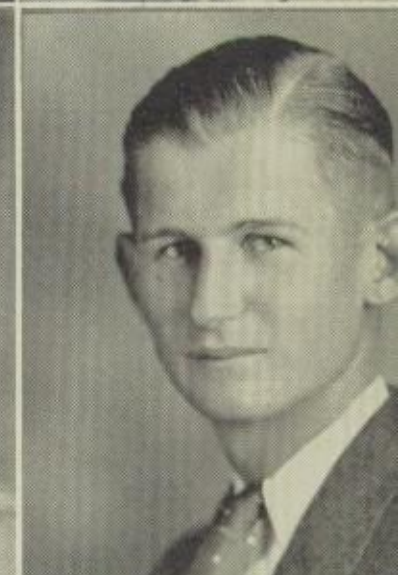

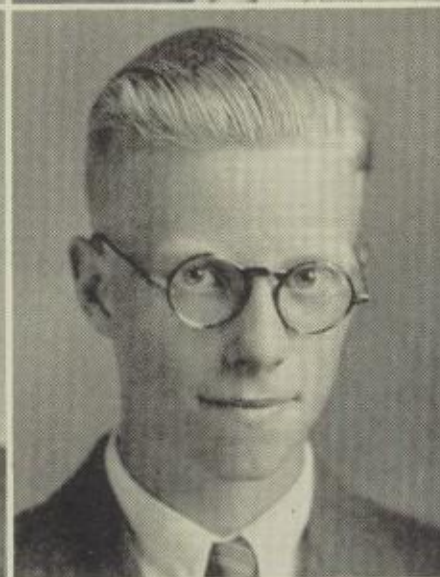

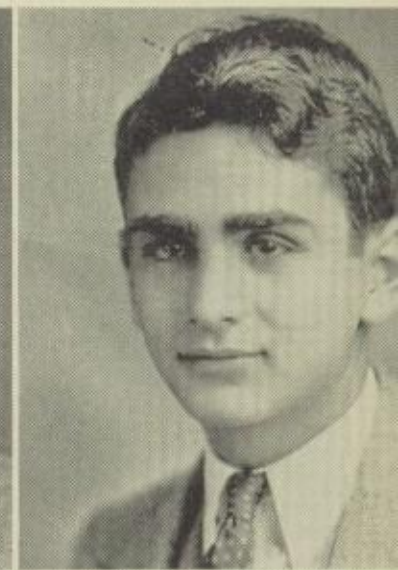

MANY HAVE BEEN the accomplishments of this year's Associated Student Body under the able leadership of its president, Bob Zeller. Several new and unusual activities were inaugurated. Motion pictures were shown in the auditorium both lunch periods on several Wednesdays. Penny noon dances proved so popular that they were given twice a week. An official seal and sticker for San Diego High School were adopted.

Blue and White day featured a Sophomore-Junior football game, Japanese fencing, and a noon dance. The new girls' uniforms, known as the Exposition special, made their debut on this occasion.

The swimming pool fund finally became a reality and was established through the efforts of the A. S. B. and the Parent-Teachers' Association.

The semi-annual A. S. B. Ball was given in the Boys' gymnasium, May 24, thus concluding a very active program for the A. S. B.

Commissioners for the spring semester were: Bob Sharp, activities; Jack E. Williams, athletics; George Ellis, publicity; and Duer Whitley, drama and debate. George Saleebey was editor of The Russ; Ruby Christian and LeRoy Crandall held the positions of historian and ticket auditor respectively. The Girls' League was represented by Ruth Ellis, while Homer Holloway debated for the Boys' Federation. The various classes were represented by Senior A Vice President Bill Lyle, Senior B Vice President Jean Noble, Junior Class President Bob Henderson, Sophomore President Kenneth Hale, and P. G. Prexy Brooks Crabtree. Helen Stuchberry was A. S. B. secretary pro tem. Mr. Folkey Johnson, commercial instructor, acted as financial adviser to the governing body.

Girls' League

MADeline TAYLOR, president of the Girls' League, started the semester's activities with a successful Big and Little Sister party. Other important and equally enjoyable events included the Combined Girls' and Boys' Hi-Jinx, and Girls' Day.

Nancy Taylor was chairman of the girls' committee in charge of the Hi-Jinx. Her assistants were Margaret Paswaters, Madeline Taylor, and Lois Jeanne Johnson; Mr. W. A. Hamman, speech arts head, was faculty sponsor. The united talent of both boys and girls was responsible for the huge financial success of the First Combined Hi-Jinx; a total of $500 was donated to the A. S. B. fund by the Boys' Federation and the Girls' League.

The Girls' League sponsored the Shakespearean play, "The Taming of the Shrew," which was given in the Russ auditorium this month. It was responsible for the sale of postal card pictures of San Diego High School. These cards advertised the Exposition and were sent to friends in other cities.

Another activity of the Girls' League was the giving of an assembly program at Hoover to aid in establishing friendlier relations between the two schools.

The Social Service Committee was headed by Elsie Taylor, who supervised the work of the girls visiting the Boys' and Girls' Receiving Home, Neighborhood House, Naval Hospital, and Bay Side Settlements.

Other active committees and their chairmen were: Friendship, Wilma Dahms; Welcome, Emma House; Publicity, Jane Sommer; Program, Stella Ragenovich; Cooperative, Ruth Ellis; and Decoration, Virginia Franklin.

Boys' Federation

EVERY BOY automatically becomes a member of the Boys' Federation when he enters San Diego High School; this arrangement offers every Caveman an opportunity to become active in some phase of student service or government. The purpose of the Boys' Federation is to promote good friendship among Hilltop boys and to group them into one club to facilitate united action.

This semester's work of the Boys' Federation has been successfully carried on under the leadership of Joe Pignatelli, president, and E. C. Taylor, sponsor.

Clean school grounds for Exposition visitors were assured by Arthur Wells, who acted as Clean Castle Campaign Chairman. Howard Holmes directed the members of the Personal Service Committee in their work of sending letters, homework, Russes, and flowers to Boys' Federation members who were ill. The Public Service Committee, headed by Blair Burkhardt, supervised the work of the Student Traffic Commissioners at the Hilltop.

The most important activity of the semester was the Combined Boys' and Girls' Hi-Jinx. The School Cooperative Committee, headed by Duer Whitley, was responsible for making the boys' part of this performance a success.

Continuing the splendid work started on Boys' Day last semester, several Hilltop boys who served as city officials last January 15 have completed a history of the eventful day. The large volume, done in blues, grays, and silver, was completely designed and handmade by King Quon, senior A. Under the leadership of Miss Ruth Price, head of the history department, Brooks Crabtree, staff editor, and his assistant, Jack Gray, were in charge of organizing and editing the history.

California Scholarship Federation

THE LOCAL CHAPTER of the California Scholarship Federation, composed of the honor students of the San Diego High School, is recognized as one of the most successful in this state-wide society.

Membership each semester is open to those who have maintained high standards of scholarship during the preceding semester. In order to gain membership, a student must earn ten points. A grade of A in a solid counts three points, a grade of B counts one point. Half solids are figured proportionately. Two of the ten points may be gained from extra-curricular activities.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Olga Hamman, the chapter's faculty adviser, the objectives of the Federation have been advanced, and each semester more students have been attracted by the worthwhile ideals of the society and stimulated in their desire to attain a high degree of scholarship. "Scholarship for Service," this year's theme for all state chapters, was well carried out at the Gray Castle, for many C. S. F. members filled important executive positions in student government. Bob Zeller, A. S. B. president for the spring semester, and Bob Sharp, A. S. B. prexy-elect, are both life members of the C. S. F.

Club activities began early in the semester with a skating party at Mission Beach, for the purpose of adding to the finances of the society, which is otherwise dependent on its sale of dues cards for funds.

This semester, delegates were sent to the annual southern regional convention at Eagle Rock High School, Los Angeles. Joe Clark, Junior B, was elected treasurer of the southern region of the C. S. F. Members of the local chapter also participated in the County convention at Fallbrook, California.

The activities of the society were terminated by the semi-annual Ditch Day and the annual banquet.

The officers and the executive board for the fall semester were: President, Brooks Crabtree; vice-president, Bob Sharp; secretary, Maridell Boucher; treasurer, Ruby Christian; activity chairman, Virginia Franklin; and publicity chairman, Margaret Hildreth. Spring semester officers were: President, Bob Sharp; vice-president, Jim Mills; secretary, Maridell Boucher; treasurer, Charles Jacobson; activity chairman, Justin Burston; and publicity chairman, Ruby Christian.

Orchestra

THE SAN DIEGO High School Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Nino Marcelli, is one of the most active and outstanding organizations of the school. Concerts which are given each semester in the Russ auditorium attract the many music lovers of San Diego. These concerts offer to the public the best of classical compositions.

This year the group is exceptional in that it is composed of 102 members, and has surpassed even the high standards maintained by this musical organization.

It received the much coveted honor of presenting a program at the California-Western Music conference in the Municipal auditorium at Pasadena on April 17.

The program included: "Herod Overture" by Hadley, "Woodland Sketches" by MacDowell, "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in D Minor" by Rubinstein, "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in D Minor" by Mozart, Mr. Marcelli's arrangement of Mendelssohn's "Canzonetta" from String Quartet in E flat major, and Ravel's "Bolero." The performance was enthusiastically received by a capacity audience.

Music lovers of San Diego are so interested in the achievements of the San Diego High School Symphony that transportation to Pasadena was provided by popular subscription. The Pasadena High school and Junior college acted as hosts to the orchestra members.

The home concert May 7 brought the year's work to a successful close.

Officers of the orchestra this semester were Justin Burston, president; Andrew Olson, vice-president; Vella Mary Capps, treasurer; Lois Thompson, secretary.

Charles Jacobson was concertmaster, with the following first chair players: Hope Read, second violins; Betty Boynton, violas; Janet Wilson, cellos; Jane Henry, basses; Eleanor Morrison, flutes; William Fay, piccolos; Gordon Graham, clarinets; Murdock Kidder, oboes; Edward Weight, bassoon; Norman Hale, horns; Perry De Long, trumpets; Walter Simpson, trombones; James Erwin, tuba; William Walker, Harry Adams, tympani; Anita Trousdale, Alice Kirchberg, Anita Grove, Sally Kemp, percussion.

The Russ

AT THE CLOSE of a school semester, it is customary to recapitulate the salient events of the last five months and to pay tribute to the outgoing students in each respective organization. The Russ this year, however, takes exception to the rule and looks forward to next fall with the brightest outlook in years.

With Miss Verl Freyburger, international president of Quill and Scroll, at its helm and prospects of the largest staff in its history, The Russ is hopeful of soaring to unprecedented heights next fall.

During the fall and spring terms, The Russ maintained its first-class position in the ratings of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Two of its members, Ed Griffith and Margaret Hildreth, won national honors in a contest sponsored by the Scholastic magazine. Griffith was awarded $10 as second place national winner in the interview division, and Margaret topped all California contestants in the feature story class.

A special six-page Exposition extra was published May 29, the opening date of the California Pacific International Exposition. Throughout the semester, special features on the exhibits of the Fair were printed, giving detailed information on the various concessions.

Quill and Scroll

WORK ON AN INTERNATIONAL journalism exhibit at the California Pacific International Exposition has been the chief endeavor this semester of the Porterfield chapter of Quill and Scroll, guided by Miss Verl Freyburger, sponsor.

This display includes papers from Quill and Scroll chapters and a few other California high schools. The publications are exhibited on elaborate racks constructed by the Gray Castle technical department, under the supervision of P. H. Heron. One of Mrs. Elsa Bauer's art classes designed the wall decoration for the booth.

Completion of this project, including the gathering and preparation of papers, took several months, and as more publications will continue to come in after vacation starts, members of the organization expect to be on the job all summer officiating at the booth and replacing papers.

Adding to the many honors of the local chapter of Quill and Scroll, Miss Margaret Verl Freyburger, its adviser, was elected international president of the organization by a popular vote of all 1100 chapters.

Officers for the spring organization of Porterfield chapter were: President, Ruby Christian; vice-president, John McCloskey; secretary-treasurer, Margaret Hildreth; historian, Helen Stuchberry; reporter, Howard Cooper; and adviser, Miss Verl Freyburger.

Debate Squad

WITH A SCHEDULE which included twenty-nine debates and a number of extemporaneous speaking contests, the Gray Castle Debate squad enjoyed one of its busiest seasons.

Handicapped in early season by the return of only five veterans, the Hilltoppers were slow in making a name for themselves in Coast League competition. Through a series of tryouts, however, eleven new members were added to the varsity, and increasing strength was shown through each succeeding contest.

Forensic activities of the year were climaxed by the County League debates and the Redlands University debate tournament, in which the San Diego debaters duplicated their achievement of 1933-1934 by reaching the semi-finals and finishing third among the thirty-two teams represented.

Team members were Brooks Crabtree, Douglas Giddings, Harry Horton, Patricia Kendall, Carolyn Carter, Donald Sullivan, Leona Sylvester, Louis Thomas, Lois Jeanne Johnson, Doris Jean Stewart, Orville Wahrenbrock, Joe Fares, Margaret Holland, Rena Little, Virginia Crabtree, and Kathryn Scramaglia, with Herbert C. Peiffer as coach.

Boys' Quartet

AS AN ADVERTISING ASSET to the San Diego High School, the Boys' Quartet, under the direction of William F. Reyer, is unsurpassed. This semester the Quartet more than succeeded in upholding the fine reputation it has established in the many years of its organization.

Its appearances have been innumerable before civic and school functions. Many of the business clubs in the city, as well as a number of churches, have enjoyed its programs. Broadcasting school programs over the radio has proved popular, and the boys have been asked again and again to repeat their programs. At the high school they have been heard at the Grand Chorus concert, the Hi-Jinx, various school programs, and at several assemblies.

This musical organization is entirely an extra-curricular activity, since no credit is received. Many hours of practice are given by the members and their director to make each performance a success. Mrs. Reyer is the accompanist and also arranges all the music for the Quartet.

Members are selected by Mr. Reyer from the Boys' Advanced Glee Club.

This semester's Quartet was composed of Richard Oliver, Eric Callard, Blair Burkhardt, and Robert Knox, all Senior A's except Callard.

Girl Reserves

"TO CREATE AND MAINTAIN Christian standards socially and morally throughout high school" is the purpose of the Girl Reserves, junior branch of the Y. W. C. A.

"World Friendship" was the theme stressed in the work of the 130 Girl Reserves at the Hilltop this semester. Sixty-five foreign countries have Girl Reserve triangles, and corresponding with some of these triangles has proved an interesting pastime for Hilltop G. R's.

The Sophomore, Junior and Senior triangles were presided over by Elizabeth Mills, Janet Phillips, and Lois Denis, respectively.

Social life was well-rounded with the mid-winter semi-formal dance, sport dance, splash parties, banquets, and week-end festivities. The more serious side of the club was stressed at the Easter Vesper service and by poetry hours.

Officers of the Girl Reserve Council, or governing body, were: President, Ruth Ellis; vice-president, Elizabeth Trompas; secretary, Lucille Daney; and treasurer, Katharine Mason.

The Girl Reserve ring signifies the quest of every Girl Reserve, which is to strive to grow in body, mind and spirit, and to unite the world in a circle of friendship.

Hi-Y

ACTIVITIES OF THE HI-Y at the Hilltop this semester have been directed by the club sponsor, Herbert Holmes, who was assisted by the following officers: President, George Kiewit; vice-president, Ulysses Barbachano; secretary, Bob Sharp; and treasurer, Homer Holloway.

The San Diego Hi-Y, established twenty years ago, is affiliated with the National Hi-Y fellowship, which is now the largest organization in the World-wide Movement of Youth.

One out of every fifteen high school boys in the United States is a Hi-Y member and receives training in leadership and social service as well as cultural advancement which this club offers. The cultural program of the Hi-Y includes social dances, open forum discussions, educational talks, and inspirational addresses; while the service tasks include the sponsoring of a Greek boys' "Y" club in Salonica, Greece, and the giving of aid to the San Diego needy.

The Hilltop Hi-Y has limited itself to its present enrollment of fifty members, although it has a long waiting list of boys desiring membership.

Every Hi-Y member has as his motto, "Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living."

Other Classes

RECORDS of other classes show that the Senior A's may be sure that they are leaving the school in capable hands. Each class cooperated with its officers and with the rest of the student body in putting over many of the Hill-top's most important activities.

The Sophomore class, led by Kenneth Hale, has made a good record at the Gray Castle with many of its students doing outstanding work in a wide variety of school activities. The officers elected to assist Kenneth were: Nobel Anderson, vice president; Ruth St. Clair, secretary; and Dorothy Billings, treasurer.

A very successful class dance climaxed the activities of the Junior class. Bob Henderson was at the helm of this class with Fred P. Morgan, vice president; Otto Goldcamp, secretary; and John Brink, treasurer.

Next semester's Senior A's, the present Senior B class, with Detty June Stevenson as president, have proved that they will be well able to fill the positions left vacant by graduating seniors. Other officers were Jean Noble, vice president; Eddie Preisler, secretary; and Lucy Julian, treasurer.

Brooks Crabtree was president of the Post Graduate class. His assistants were Burdette Binkley, Douglas Giddings, and Rita Watkins.

Gens de Guerre

THE GENS DE GUERRE is composed of all commissioned officers of the R. O. T. C. and of the band. The purpose of this organization is to promote a feeling of fellowship and cooperation among the officers with regard both to the military drill and outside activities of the student corps.

This organization has still a more definite aim, to bring the officers into closer touch with one another and to standardize the aims of the different R. O. T. C. units.

The Gens de Guerre endeavors to keep students who graduate interested in military activities by informing them of the latest military policies and by inviting them to social functions.

Under the able direction of Major H. P. Kayser, many projects have been undertaken, and even more has been accomplished this semester than during the previous years.

Many interesting activities, such as drill competition, interscholastic competition, rifle contests, picnics, receptions, dances, and other social affairs, are sponsored by this officers' club.

Officers of the Gens de Guerre this semester were: President, Louis Perna; vice-president, George Rosado; secretary, James Sweet; and treasurer, Howard Miller.

Dramatic Club

"PHILIP GOES FORTH," a three-act comedy, was the most important production of the Dramatic Club this semester. It was presented on April 5 with LeRoy Crandall in the leading role as an unsuccessful playwright. Other important parts were taken by Fred Morgan as the headstrong business man, Rosalie Maiss as a former actress, Helen Randolph who impersonated Philip's mother, and Patricia Kendall, Ruth Becker, and Duer Whitley. The play was directed by Miss Lois Perkins, club sponsor.

The Dramatic Club meets bi-monthly and has interesting programs consisting of plays given by members of the club. Selection and direction of the plays are in complete charge of the members.

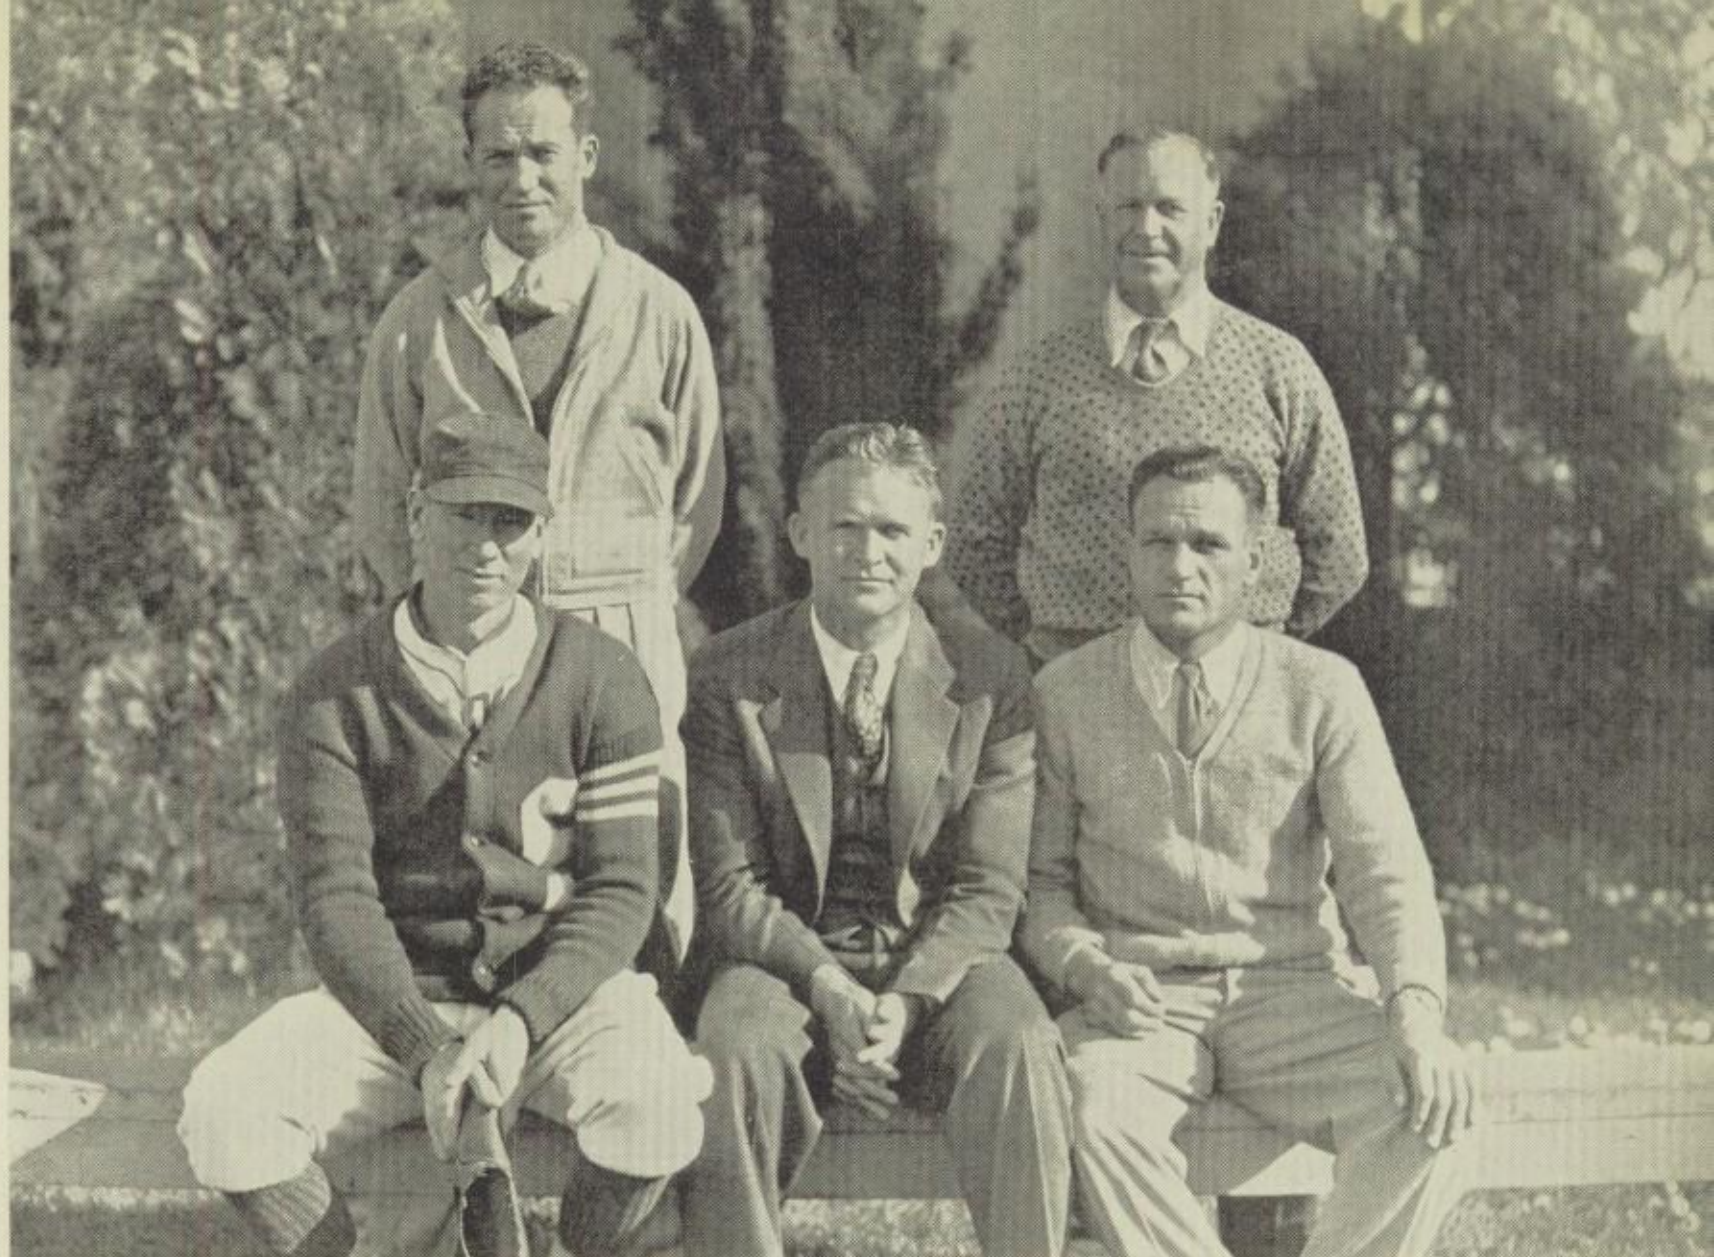

One of the main social functions of the Dramatic Club was a Faculty Tea given by the club to honor the Hilltop teachers. Elaborate decorations and the presentation of a one-act play made this semester's tea an occasion to remember.

Officers of the Dramatic Club for the spring semester were: President, John Hoff; vice-president, Peggy Hayes; secretary, Duer Whitley; treasurer, Willene Whitcomb; and historian, Anita Gessler.

Poise, alacrity, grace, and stamina, the aspirations of every true sportsman, are developed to the utmost of perfection by the ancient art of Japanese fencing.

Coaches

THE '35 SEASON saw the Hilltop coaching staff suffer the loss of one of its most popular members, Coach Harold "Hobbs" Adams. At the close of the football season, the Hiller mentor took over the duties of frosh grid tutor at the University of Southern California. Glenn Broderick, track coach, is slated to be at the Hiller pigskin helm next fall.

Adams, '22 Gray Castle graduate, started his football coaching career at San Diego High School in 1929, and produced some of the strongest gridiron elevens ever to represent the Hilltop.

As head coach, the University of Southern California alumnus organized many inter-school sports, thus enabling every Hilltopper to participate in some form of athletics.

Following Adams' departure, Ed Ruffa, former Memorial Junior High School head coach, joined the local physical education staff and took charge of Class B basketball, Jayvee baseball, and Sophomore football. Mike Morrow chairman of the physical education department, is basketball, baseball, and assistant football coach, while Glenn Broderick tutors both the track and football squads. Frank Crosby instructs Gray Castle wrestlers; Charles Church heads intramural sports.

SAN DIEGO HIGH SCHOOL'S 1934 varsity football squad tackled one of the toughest schedules in the history of the Gray Castle under the able tutorship of Coach Harold "Hobbs" Adams, who took over the duties of freshman grid mentor of the University of Southern California at the close of the pigskin season. Glenn Broderick, track coach, was named to fill Adams' post.

Opening their campaign against the strong San Diego State College Frosh eleven, the Cavemen outplayed the Aztec Babes during the entire tilt, only to drop the game, 13-7, after the Collegians intercepted a Hiller pass and romped 50 yards to score.

Pomona High came south and provided the opposition for the locals in the second encounter, with the Gray Castlemen pushing over a touchdown in the final quarter to ward off a 7-7 deadlock and to capture the affair by a 13-7 margin.

Being one of the few California high schools to participate in an inter-sectional gridiron battle, San Diego traveled to Phoenix, Arizona, and mauled the Coyotes, 39-0, in a night encounter before 7000 fans.

The locals rolled over the Santa Ana Saints, 26-7, in their initial league tilt in the stadium, but a week following on the northern field suffered a 13-6 setback at the hands of their traditional rivals, the Long Beach Poly High Jack-rabbits. Long Beach went on to cop the Coast Prep League crown and annex the S. C. I. F. title.

Glendale, the "weak sister" of the Coast League, took a 27-0 blow from the Hillers on the Dynamiter gridiron, while a week later in the stadium the Cavemen downed Pasadena with another 27-0 score.

Playing host to Alhambra at the Homecoming game, the locals wound up at second place in the loop race by downing the Moors, 19-0. In the battle for the City Championship, the Hillmen recorded a 14-0 triumph against Herbert Hoover's Cardinals.

Outstanding on the San Diego eleven were Ambrose Schindler, '33 and '34 All-Southern California quarterback, Lloyd St. John, Dick Sawaya, and Coye Dunn. While on the line, Captain R. C. Moore, Wayne Fry, Sam Ortiz, Eugene James, Herman Baecht, Ben Sohn, and Frank Miller led the local field.

To the coaching staff, composed of Headman Adams, Glenn Broderick, Mike Morrow, and Bill Schutte, much credit is due.

Basketball

THE HILLTOP CASABA SQUAD got off to a flying start in its 1934-35 basketball campaign by winning two divisions in the Annual County Amateur Athletic Union tourney and finishing second in a third division.

Coach Mike Morrow's varsity five, led by one letterman, Melvin Hendry, center, captured the A. A. U. championship with victories being recorded over Sweetwater, Grossmont, and Herbert Hoover High Schools of San Diego.

In the class C race, the Gray Castle squad annexed its third consecutive A. A. U. crown, thereby gaining permanent possession of the cup.

Class B Cavemen reached the finals in their division, only to be trounced by the Herbert Hoover Cardinals. The Red Birds continued on to win the All-Southern California B title.

Several weeks following the A. A. U. affair, Herbert Hoover's varsity five downed the Cavemen by a slight margin in San Diego State College's Montezuma gymnasium.

In the Coast Prep League competition, the Hillmen did not meet with much success, finishing far down in the league standings.

Next year's team should be powerful, with Roy Banks and Milton Nesbit being the only members of the aggregation to be lost through graduation.

Returning varsity players will be Melvin Hendry, Eddie Preisler, Ernie Mallory, Chito Rivas, Willie Rivas, Vance Randolph, Bob Barth, Jimmy Lee, and Julius Skinner.

Track

THE SAN DIEGO HIGH SCHOOL track and field squad, although gaining second position in the loop dual meet competition for the fifth consecutive time, climaxed its 1935 campaign by winning the All-Coast Prep League meet held at Glendale Union High School.

Glendale nosed out the Cavemen for top honors in the league dual standings, but the locals evened matters when they won the all-loop affair.

A strong frosh aggregation representing San Diego State College provided the first opposition of the season for the Broderickmen, winning over the Hillers by a 64-49 score.

In the league race, the Cavemen bowled over Long Beach, Pasadena, and Santa Ana, while Alhambra forfeited their encounter. Glendale stopped the locals and managed to retain their crown for the third straight year.

The Hillmen, in their opening loop cinder affair, trounced the Long Beach Poly High Jackrabbits, 81-32, the worst defeat the Hares ever received in their eleven years under Coach Norman Baker.

Herbert Hoover High's Red Birds were plucked 88½ to 15½ by the Hill-toppers, giving the locals the city track and field championship. In the final meet of the season, the Cavemen turned the tables on a pre-meet favorite, Long Beach Woodrow Wilson, and won, 65-39.

Tennis

*A*FTER A LAPSE of many years, a tennis team representing the Gray Castle annexed the Coast Prep League tennis crown. The Hilltop racket wielders, under the guidance of Herbert C. Peiffer, San Diego High School speech arts instructor, went undefeated throughout their entire 1935 season.

Santa Ana was the first victim of the Cavemen, being stopped on their home courts, 11-0. A week later the Long Beach Poly High School Jackrabbits were slated to appear on the San Diego courts, but failed to make the trip and dropped the affair by default.

Both Glendale and Pasadena provided tough opposition for the Hillmen, but the locals managed to come out the victors on both occasions.

Winding up their league campaign against Alhambra High at the northern city, the Cavemen trounced the Moors, 18-7, and added another cup to the Gray Castle trophy case.

Representing the Coast loop, the Hiller tennis squad entered the Southern California Interscholastic Federation playoffs, but it was not known at press time how far the Gray Castlemen would go toward capturing the crown.

In numerous other matches with local squads and teams representing Imperial county, the San Diego High tennis artists were also on the winning end of the score.

Wrestling

BOASTING THE strongest Hilltop grappling aggregation since 1930, Coach Frank Crosby's Gray Castle wrestling squad placed second to Whittier in the annual Southern California bonecrusher tourney and swept through all opposition to cop its fifth consecutive County Amateur Athletic Union title.

Bad breaks gave the locals the runner-up position to Whittier; however, three Cavemen captured Southern California crowns. They were Leonard Fierro, 95 pounds; Captain Al Penuelas, 125 pounds; and Albert Rodriguez, 135 pounds.

In the A. A. U. affair, Crosby's squad met many tough teams, but managed to win the title ahead of the City and Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. wrestlers, who finished in a tie for second position.

More than 70 Gray Castlemen participated in the interclass tournament, which was one of the most successful inter-school tourneys ever held at the Hilltop. Three year lettermen who received a major sports letter are Robert Johnson, Captain Al Penuelas, and George Saleebey.

Bill Skelley

Baseball

A COAST PREP LEAGUE CROWN, a consolation title in the Pomona Tourney, and the loss of the city baseball championship—such was the status of the 1935 campaign of the Hiller baseball nine.

In their initial tilt of the season, the Morrowmen were tripped, 12-5, by the Alumni squad, while a week later, the Hillmen conquered the University of Southern California freshmen, 12-11, in a 10-inning affair.

A return game was held on the Los Angeles diamond with the Trobables winning, 4-3, in a neck and neck battle. Santa Ana fell before the locals, 4-2, in the opening loop tussle, while Long Beach Poly High downed the Cavemen by a 14-10 margin to hand San Diego its lone league setback of the season.

The Gray Castlemen stopped Pasadena, 7-0, Glendale, 7-4, and Alhambra, 6-2, to wind up in a tie for first with Long Beach, as the Beachers were stopped by one of the weakest nines in the loop, Alhambra.

A return game with the Poly High diamond artists was played on the northern field, and the locals pulverized the Jackrabbits, 7-2, and gained the Coast Prep league baseball pennant.

In the Pomona 20-30 club's Annual Invitational Tourney, Fullerton high earned a close 7-6 decision over the Cavemen in the first fray of the series. However, San Diego staged a comeback and copped the consolation crown, trouncing Calxico high in the finals, 16-1.

Girls' Athletic Association

WITH A PRESENT MEMBERSHIP of about 200 girls, the San Diego High School Girls' Athletic Association brought its spring semester's activities to a close with its annual spring banquet.

To be a member in this organization, a girl must participate in after school sports, going out for the required number of practices and games; thus earning points which count toward rewards of numerals, pennants, and sweaters. The class numerals are given to the girls who earn 500 points; pennants to those who make 1000 points; and a girls' sports sweater to the girls who acquire 2000 points.

Activities in which honors may be earned during the spring semester are basketball, track, and baseball, besides the singles and doubles tennis tournaments. Tryouts for points in swimming and folk-dancing are also held.

Social activities of the organization for the spring semester were as follows: Faculty tea, basketball spread, swimming party, Junior-Senior hockey party, and G. A. A. banquet.

Miss Miriam Paine, faculty adviser, has helped the girls in every way possible to make this club a success.

Officers for the spring semester were: President, Fay Maupin, vice-president, Mildred Wolfe; secretary, Doris Nordquist; and treasurer, Jean Creelman.

Archery

Sponsored by Letain Kittredge, Hilltop technical arts instructor, San Diego High School's Archery club boasts a membership of 30 students this semester.

As the Gray Castlemen make their own bows and arrows in the school workshops, skill in handicraft as well as in archery is gained through this sport. Practice sessions are held Tuesdays and Thursdays each week on the west lawns.

Officers of the organization are: President, Alex Crosthwaite; vice president, Albert Ernst; secretary, Mary Kathryn Fay; and treasurer, Bernice Yates.

Baseball (Continued)

The loss of the City baseball championship to its bitter El Cajon Avenue rival, Herbert Hoover, was the hardest blow the '35 Hiller nine received. The Cardinals captured the opening tilt, 3-1, while the Morrowmen turned the tables and were victorious in the second affair, 9-5. In the deciding encounter on the East San Diego turf, the Red Birds won, 5-2, in a thrilling battle.

However, the two teams met again in the S. C. I. F. playoffs, and the locals avenged the loss of the City crown by thumping the Cards with a 14-11 score.

Continuing their campaign in the Southern California playoffs, the Morrowmen conquered Valencia High, 9-4, and earned the right to enter the semi-finals. Although it was unknown at press time how far the Gray Castle nine would go toward gaining its ninth southland baseball championship, the Hillers stood a good chance of copping the title.

Exposition Rare Bits

EDITOR'S NOTE: While wandering through the Exposition grounds, we chanced upon a tiny booth in an obscure corner among San Diego High School projects. Over the booth was a scrawly sign reading, "Rare Antiques of San Diego High School." Glancing through the mass of objects which might better have been termed "Gray Castle Junk" we tried to itemize as many as possible.

In a neat little heap were the pieces of exploded test tubes used by Jane Sommer in chemistry.

Decorating one wall was a desk top with the names Kathleen Moulton, '35, and Kenneth Brown, '34, carved on it.

In a cracker box were discovered the wise cracks of Mary Jane Lewis.

Looking like a miniature flower garden in the late fall was a patch of dead flowers that were worn in Ruth Ellis' hair all term.

Ruth Samisch was represented in the exhibit with a faded collection of Senior A sweaters.

Lying on a cracked plate and surrounded by grains of salt was the golden tongue of Patricia Kendall.

In a bottle entitled, "Heger Did It" was a curling fluid guaranteed by Vernon Heger himself to make straight hair curly in three years.

Presiding in a pepper shaker were George Klicka's freckles.

Behind the counter of the booth stood Joe Hurwitz's perfect mathematical problem which he can't add, subtract, multiply or divide, and which has no answer—at least he hasn't been able to get one. It is called the Margaret Paswaters' problem.

Enclosed in a box labeled, "Rare French Products," Huguette Hopkins' French accent was discovered.

On the shelf of especially rare antiques was the picture of Phyllis Birkett taken on the one and only day when she arrived at school in uniform.

Evidently very popular, judging from its worn bindings, was a book entitled, "The Life of a Lady's Man," by David Jakonovich.

On an old wooden bench was a galvanized wash tub over which Madam Soap Suds, alias Mavoureen Page, wrote her column for The Russ.

Among the fine arts exhibits was a book by Wilma Dahms entitled, "The Art of Milking a Goat."

In a fish net, which hung over the entire exhibit, was Arline Cooley's collection of Vernons.

A little brown bottle displaying the label, "Here's How It's Done," was sealed with a strand of Elaine Welden's golden hair.

On the wall was a poster splashed with the unforgettable words, "Growing Pains," and with the customary little stamp, "Mrs. Bauer." Also decorating the sign were pencil scribbings of such familiar names as Robert Rood and Gordon Russell.

With the Senior A's at the C. P. I. E.

WELL, IT'S ABOUT TIME we took a look at the Expo itself, so hop in and let's drive over. Suddenly from the roadside appears a twitching thumb, which, on closer examination, turns out to belong to Dan McCauley. Hitchhikers! The scourge of all motorists!

In rapid succession we pass Brice Mack, Walter Mason, and Homer Shank, all thumbing frantically at passing cars.

But enough of that. Before us looms the gates of the Exposition itself.

Lurking beside the entrance are George Lanterman and Ray McQuat, apparently waiting for some fat man behind whom they might sneak in.

Inside, confusion reigns. A young fellow whom we recognize as Norman Hale shoots by like an express train, closely followed by Jean Hemstock, who is propelling him toward a refreshment stand. In their haste, they upset Edgar Poole and Raymond Pyle, who are wandering about with a dazed look on their faces.

Let's take a wheel chair and look around. Here, boy! Why it's Armando Leal, keeping in shape for next track season. In we climb, and with a loud "giddap," we are off, almost colliding with the vehicle of Coye Dunn and Joe Avoyer, being pulled by Donald Sullivan.

Once in the open, we spot a carriage far in the distance. Stimulated with promises of sugar lumps and carrots, plus a few cracks from a leather belt, our steed puts forth his best efforts and soon we overtake the other chair. Inside it, piled one upon the other are Eugene Dye, Herbert Kelly, John Gerding, and Ralph Graves, who immediately enter into the spirit of the race.

However, poor little Bobby Lovins, who is furnishing the motive power for our competitors, is not quite up to the task thrust upon him, and soon comes to a standstill, knees shaking, nostrils distended and lather streaming from his sleek flanks and withers.

Having had enough of this horse play, we dismiss the carriage and start out on our own.

Suddenly, from the entrance of the Palace of Women we see someone signaling us. As we drew closer we perceive it is Jack Hermann who wants to show us a gadget that will peel potatoes, wash dishes, and shine shoes.

Before Jack can show it to us, however, a loud wailing noise catches our attention. We look around and finally see where it is coming from. Milan Juras is sitting in a corner crying as though his little heart would break. After much questioning, we finally discover that little Milan had lost his mother.

Alas! What to do! But what's this—Richard Sawaya, a sympathetic bystander, picks up a shiny brass cuspidor and gives it to Milan, who, mistaking it for a shot-put, immediately forgets about his mother.

Now for the zoo. At the waiting line we crowd in between Leota Meyer and Frances Meader. Soon we are inside. The intriguing odor of reptiles greet our nostrils and, consequently, we are soon inside the snake house. Before us stands Blair Burkhardt gazing blankly at a snake.

Justin Burston, seeing Blair's predicament, brings him out of his hypnotic spell with a snap of the fingers and a slap in the face.

Blair immediately resents the latter and it takes the combined efforts of Dick Ryan, William Schwerin and Magner White to prevent a display of violence.

After looking around the zoo, during which time we catch Helen Flint trying to take a penny away from a monkey, we return to the car and start home.

While crossing Cabrillo bridge, our attention is caught by the sight of Watson Fell, leaning far out over the edge. Fearing Watson was planning to end it all, we jump out of the car and grab him, pleading with him to reconsider.

After much questioning, however, it develops that Watson was merely trying to expectorate in the pond below.

Do You Remember

When Harry Horton was free from the wiles of all blonds?

How your knees played Yankee Doodle when you got your first demerits?

The shock you got when you saw your first report cards at the San Diego High School?

Back in the old peagreen days when Bob Zeller walked away with the essay prize?

The ideal boy contest of 1934 when Frank Petrich won honorable mention in politeness and talent, and Coye Dunn in athletic ability?

The thrill of coming out of uniform for the first time and not getting caught?

When Patsy Herrin won a $10 order on her graduation dress just because she happened to come in a door at the right time.

How long you wondered where the tombstone was, and then you finally discovered it was the rock you'd been piling your books on every morning?

When you sat in the Senior A section when you were a peagreen, and got booted out?

The good old days when you could hear a pin drop at an assembly?

What fun it was telling the teachers what subjects you were going to take instead of their telling you?

When we had eight periods to sit in boredom instead of seven?

When San Diego High went fifty years backwards for its anniversary, by allowing young Cavewomen to dash around in bustles and pantaloons all day?

When W. F. Reyer wrote our new alma mater hymn, and we went around to a different tune for a change?

When the Campus Sage wrote Chatter instead of "Skandal?"

NO. 1

Crosby and Stooges Go on CBS Hook-up At Expo Bughouse

Paul Crosby and his gang, who have been appearing in a radiovision program over the Richard Clark Broadcasting system advertising Joe Avoyer's canned bread, will appear in person at the Chester Mills Bughouse on the Exposition grounds at 8 o'clock this evening.

Appearing with Fred Gongora, the slap stick comedian, will be Vernon Dennis and his 16-piece comb and bread wrapping orchestra. He will feature his Jean Harlow blonde singer, Vera Mehas, and the famous Never-Do-Well sisters, Harriet France, Anita Grove, Elizabeth Trompas, and Betty Harrison, all of whom have just finished a tour through Africa. Dennis and his band will play their original interpretation of Frank Petrich's season's song hit, "Give a Guy a Chance."

Beautiful Maxine Dickenson, star of Joe Pignatelli's "Gold Diggers of 1960," will dance the Camp Belle ballet, named after its originator, the American Ambassador to the French School of Dance, George Campbell.

'I Can Fly,' Says Pilot But Lands In Fish Pool

"I'm no angel, but I can fly!" exclaimed John Hubbell, inventor, at the trial test for his "wings" on the Exposition flying field today. Accordingly, he climbed up on the roof of one of the hangars, and after several minutes, leaped into the air with a graceful sweep of his wings, and then came tumbling down like a ton of bricks. Luckily for him, he landed in the fish pool, and was fished out before he drowned. However, he was his old enthusiastic self as soon as he touched the ground, and he astounded his onlookers by announcing: "That gave me an idea. I'll invent a way for a man to burrow into the ground—just like a worm."

Worm, fish, or poor bird—here's to you Hubbell.

Ben Hagar Buys Antique

Newly-married Ben Hagar spent his last cent today to buy a San Diego high school P.T. A. cook book for $50 at the Peggy Albright Antique Shoppe. He claimed he was making the purchase for his wife, the former Miss Jay Riddle, but even Ben has been caught wearing an apron.

President States Prosperity Just Around Corner

"Prosperity is just around the corner!" boomed out the President of the United States in a speech to 40,000 people at the Exposition Open Forum last night. President Bob Zeller then pointed his finger to a fat old gentleman emerging around the corner of a nearby building, and shouted, "Here comes prosperity now!"

Prosperity Homer Holloway, San Diego banker, slowly pushed his way through the crowd and up to the grandstand where he stood before Zeller, thrust a plump hand in his pocket and bringing out a dime said: "Indeed, Prosperity has arrived at last! Here, Bob, is that dime I borrowed from you back in '35."

Detective Dickinson Finds 'Explo' Cause

A climax was reached early this morning when William Dickinson, private detective engaged by San Diego's school board, discovered the cause of the explosion which destroyed the 100 building last week, killing 73 teachers and slightly injuring one student.

Dickinson revealed that the calamity was caused by Dayton Axtell, Harold Greer, Robert Knox, and Stanley Smith, a group of anarchist chemistry teachers, who, while working on a new explosive, dropped a lighted blow torch into the mixture.

Stanley Smith, only survivor of the chemists, broke down and confessed after much grilling.

"But we didn't know it would go off," he explained meekly.

Jean Nelson Is Hostess At Church Guild Fiesta

The Don Thatcher church guild, with Jean Nelson as hostess, sponsored a carnival in the basement of the Manning Merriken Sorority house yesterday.

Lucille West, with her football team, and Betty Boynton, fancy ice-skater, erased any profits by cutting up the dance floor with ice breakers.

Exposition Special In Pt. Loma Crash; Death Has Holiday

Death took a holiday today when the Andrew Olson Exposition Special airplane liner with seventy-five passengers aboard crashed off Point Loma. The accident occurred when water from the swimming pool, which is built on the wing of the ship, splashed into the engine and caused the spark plugs to float on the carburetor. The splashes, nearing tidal waves in magnitude, occurred when Anamary McClelland made her first dive into the pool. A complaint of manslaughter has been issued against Miss McClelland.

Bill Lyle, Gordon Hall, and Jerry Masten, horse shoe ringers of the Philharmonic band, were eating their fish dinner in the ship's dining salon when the plane lurched. They were choked to death by the fish bones. The ship's doctor, Robert Richey, believed they would recover, however.

Edna Burdick, world renowned puddle jumper, and Catherine Schubert, prominent New York fish pond inspector, who were last seen swimming in the ocean with several well-mannered whales, were missing at press time.

Injured members are reclining in the Dora Newell hospital for the feeble minded, where they seem to be quite at home and doing well.

Tiney Delle Saum Weds Little LeRoy Crandall

Miss Tiney Delle Saum, daughter of Mr. Kenneth Saum and Mrs. Maridell Boucher Saum of Arthur Simpson park, was married here this morning in St. Herbert Kelly chapel to Lt. Little LeRoy Crandall, son of Mr. LeRoy Crandall of San Diego and the lately divorced Mrs. MarJo Smith Crandall. The Rev. Harry Simmonds performed the ceremony in the little chapel which was decorated with Gene Scott violets and ferns.

Miss Mary Sanford Ulysses Barbachano, school girl friend of the bride and daughter of the governor of California, was maid of honor. Miss Barbara Peck, friend of Mrs. Saum, was flower girl. Mr. Duer Whitley, Hollywood movie director of dog pictures, was best man.

The bride studied at the Martha Noble Academy, after which she attended Charles Jacobson's School of Fiddling.

The couple will make their home for the most part in Reno.

Prize Fight Staged At Ritzy Shindig; Stopped by Crab

Wayne Fry, University of California football coach, and Mrs. Fry, professionally known as Miss Fay Maupin, world's champion woman prize fighter, entertained in the basement of their magnificent suburban home with a big shindig last evening.

A prize fight between the hostess and Miss Madge Updegraff was staged, with that red-headed lass of 48 years keeping Mrs. Fry sizzling during most of the match. R. C. Moore, football table favors salesman, however, swiped a crab out of the chowder and sicked it on them. When the ladies saw the monster doing an American crawl in their direction, they dashed for the nearest chairs, putting an end to the match.

Coye Dunn, he-man ranger from the northern woods—Balboa Park canyon—was there to charm Elsie Taylor, ping pong champion, and Anita Gessler, the woman who dared to swim the San Diego river, away from Jack Bullock, wooden rocking horse manufacturer. Jack "Bing" Williams of the Pink Mits, spent the evening swatting flies on the wall with a baseball bat.

New Exposition Hotel Features Landing Field

Featuring a private airplane landing field for each guest, the new Bill Camp Exposition hotel designed by George Henry and constructed by the Royden Stork and All The Little Storks Company, will be finished this month.

The heads of the Eugene Rumsey beds will be padded to prevent hurting the head when it is bumped. Arthur Caldwell elevators are to be installed with soft cushioned seats and couches for those who become tired before the elevator reaches the three hundredth floor. Garland Gregersen parachutes will be at each floor for guests who wish to save time by floating down in their parachutes to a neighbor's landing field.

Hot Stage Drama Billed For Show

Florida's Palm Beach Club Review, a stage show of women performers, heads the bill at the Exposition's World theater this evening. On the screen is a speedy laugh and action drama by Naida Pratt, "Turn in That Alarm," in which Fred Morgan has the featured role. In the supporting cast are Jane Jedlick, the siren, Randell Fairburn, the fire, and George Rosado, the alarm.

In the stage revue with Jewell Carlton and her Palm Beach Club band are all her little dancing jewels, Berwyn Gray, Estelle Panosch, Phyllis Pasas, Norma Rasmussen, Katherine Wolfe, and Mary Roberts. Virginia Fellows, featured violinist, and Rose Bush, pianist and popular music composer, will play Miss Bush's latest composition, "Molasses in January."

Verna Squires, Awona Harrington, Cecelia Nagle, Carolyn Wade and Sarah Lipsey, Palm Beach Club waitresses, who were a smashing success in Florida, will do fancy tricks with a serving tray full of dishes balanced on their heads.

Twins Get Together After Many Years

Today was a big day for two pairs of twins, Madeline and Nancy Taylor, and Kathleen and Marjorie Schneider, who met again after 25 years of separation.

Miss Marjorie Schneider is an art teacher at Bachelors' college, while Nancy Taylor also has scored in art work with her prize portrait of "A Flea."

Miss Madeline Taylor, ballet teacher, will marry Hans Ksmietisen, Dutch toe dancer, as soon as he is able to afford the price of two pairs of wooden shoes a year instead of one.

Miss Kathleen Schneider, now Mrs. B. B. Gun, is busy rearing a noisy pair of little Guns.

Cellophane, Tin Foil Featured in Gowns At Exposition Ball

Spring sprang this evening as world celebrities wearing creations introduced by famous designers of Europe and America arrived at the Exposition Ball. Gracing the gorgeous ballroom throne as Queen of the Ball was Peggy Riddle of New York's blue book. She wore a gown of oriental design created by Fugi Tsumagari.

The screen's Garbo, Rosalie Maiss, arrived with the beautiful Carolyn Carter, both of whom were flashing in gowns of diamonds from the Betty Crawford exclusive Gowne Shoppe. Miss Vivian Hoover and Orpha La Zelle, stars of the latest Broadway stage play, "Red Headed Women vs. Blonds" were present in gowns of cellophane and tin foil.

Howard Mueller, American Ocean Liner owner, was spied flying around the punch bowl, where Dorothy Scruggs, Mercedes Bennett, Bessie Demangus, Caroline Duran, Florence Grobman, Edwina Langdon, Earline Munro, and Adeline Higgins were also seen recovering from a pie eating contest at which Pauline Grignon took the prize.

Adelaide Armstrong, hunter, broke up the party when she began shooting the place up with a tiny pop gun she had bought for her little brother. Betty Thomas, acclaimed the nation's most beautiful stenographer, saved the day, however, when she turned the fire hose on Adelaide and washed up the house.

Appreciation

ONLY WHEN editorial copy is completely assembled and typed, when engravings have come red-hot from carbonizing to be cooled and mounted for the printer, and only when the heavy presses are beginning to turn out the gleaming printed sheets, can an editor really comprehend the tremendous amount of work which others have put into the publication of the Annual.

It is then her privilege to write a few notes in appreciation to those whose services, cooperation, and counsel so materially helped during the weeks of work before the book was ready for its readers.

To Mr. Hal Brucker and his associates of Neyenesch Printers, Inc., to the Sunset Engravers and to Vreeland's Photographers, my sincere appreciation.
